A NOTE FROM THE DOCS

What is PRF?

PRF is getting a lot of buzz lately on the internet and social media but what is it exactly and how does PRF benefit us?

Platelet-Rich Fibrin (PRF) is a natural biomaterial obtained from a patient's own blood that is used in various medical procedures to promote healing and tissue regeneration. It is a second-generation platelet concentrate and is considered an advancement over Platelet-Rich Plasma (PRP). PRF is created by centrifuging blood without any anticoagulants, resulting in a fibrin matrix enriched with platelets, white blood cells, and growth factors.

PRF is a great anti-aging treatment for clients looking to rebuild collagen and elastin in all areas of the face including sensitive areas like under eyes, lips and perioral. PRF can also be used for hair growth, scar revision, as well as intermuscular and aids in healing tendons, ligaments, and cartilage. This is next level Regenerative Medicine and we are excited to offer this service to our community!

To make PRF we draw your blood and spin it down right in our lab at PURE so the process is quick and easy! PRF is often a compliment to other services we offer, enhancing your overall results. To learn more about PRF and to see if its right for you, book a physician consultation today!
